ms. B.1.6 v.13, p.24
So engrossed in party and stripes
In power, place & emolument — or so eaten up with thought of selfish aggrandizement —

or so careless as to what may be yr. burden & laboring of poverty, as to dash out of mind all these things, & refuse to be annoyed with them.

Thank God this yr.
can't be escaped - it thrusts itself in to v. councils of ~~unprincipled~~ ~~unprincipled~~ politicians, and intriguing priests, and it brings to light their hidden abominations, confounds their language, exhibits their deformities, and causes them to howl - "let us alone.
Come to torment us?"
